APU VOICES

"The mission of APU's Graduate School of Management (GSM) is to cultivate creative, well-rounded professionals and leaders who will play a central role in resolving management issues at globalizing enterprises and other organizations by imparting advanced management skills, innovation, a good understanding of business ethics, and a deep insight into globalization."

Toshitsugu Otake, Ph.D. (Japan)

Professor and Dean of the Graduate School of Management

"My top three reasons for choosing APU's MBA program were the active learning curriculum, the multicultural environment, and the ability to learn foundation Japanese at the same time. With enough determination to make the most of the two-year program, you can graduate from APU with a very strong profile: a global-minded MBA holder who can speak multiple languages."

Avila Carlo Irawan (Indonesia, Graduated in 2017)

Senior Consultant, Deloitte Consulting, Indonesia

"APU is a university that can open new windows of opportunity in your career. Thanks to the unique education I received, I acquired important academic and professional skills that allowed me to understand and conduct business from a global point of view."

Victoria Andrea Garay Vargas (Chile, Graduated in 2017)

Economic Advisor, Embassy of Uruguay in Japan

FLEXIBILITY TO MATCH YOUR LEARNING STYLE

Along with the required subjects, seminar courses and electives required for their chosen specialization, students have the chance to fill out the remainder of their credits from among Japanese language and IT classes as well as those from the Graduate School of Asia Pacific Studies as part of the Core Related Courses requirement, giving them the flexibility to pursue their interests. In addition, with the ability to freely distribute their course load each semester, students can concentrate on finding internships, learning Japanese, doing research, or job-hunting during semesters (typically 3rd and 4th) with lighter credit loads.
