APU VOICES

"APU's graduate school programs provide an intellectually strong and diverse community to support you as you hone your knowledge, skills, and global perspective to help tackle problems facing the Asia Pacific region and the world. Upon graduating from APU, you will join a large alumni network that is well-positioned to expand your connections across the globe as you take the next steps in your career."

Steven B. Rothman, Ph.D. (USA)

Associate Professor and Associate Dean of the Graduate School of Asia Pacific Studies

"In addition to attending various seminars and workshops at APU, I also had the opportunity to present my research at APU's annual Asia Pacific Conference. Through the conference, I received valuable feedback to improve my research and built a professional network with scholars from all over the world."

Bich T. Tran (Viet Nam, Graduated in 2017)

Ph.D. Candidate, University of Antwerp, Belgium

Former Asia Studies Visiting Fellow, East-West Center in Washington

"The real-world experience, knowledge, and awareness of international issues I obtained through my studies at APU are invaluable to me as they have proven to be essential tools in my career in international diplomatic relations. I was able to establish a personal, worldwide network of accomplished professionals that I am still a part of today."

Swe Sett (Myanmar, Graduated in 2014)

First Secretary, Embassy of the Republic of the Union of Myanmar, Washington DC, USA

FLEXIBLE CURRICULUM TO MATCH YOUR LEARNING STYLE

No matter what division students choose, they will have the option of taking courses from other divisions within both graduate schools at APU. This allows students to fulfil a portion of their graduation requirements while also giving them the flexibility to round out their education and pursue their specific interests.

In addition, with the ability to freely distribute the course load each semester, students can focus their efforts on their research and job-hunting activities, work on or off campus, or explore Japan during semesters (typically 3rd and 4th) with lighter credit loads. The maximum number of credits that can be registered per semester is twenty-two. All subjects are awarded two credits upon completion and a minimum of thirty-two credits is required to graduate.
