

To all incoming APU international undergraduate students,

Welcome to the APU family! We're excited to be a part of your journey into higher education and self-discovery, and we can hardly wait for your arrival. We hope that your preparations are going well. Coming to a new country to begin your university life can be daunting (and even downright confusing!), so we've prepared this handbook to guide you through each step.

If you have any questions not answered in this guide, please do not hesitate to contact us. If you would like to hear from some of our students, alumni, faculty, or staff, you can also check out our blog (<https://admissions.apu.ac.jp/blog/>) for their advice, stories, and experiences. We look forward to meeting you on campus!
